

Assignments

Financial Plan Assignment

Teaching children financial responsibility is a lifetime process, not something that occurs once and then they know it for the rest of their lives. It is challenging and time consuming, but it also can be a somewhat predictable process. Determine first how your parents taught you financial responsibility. Then determine how you want to teach your children financial responsibility.